Canadian Retirement Investing with Mr. Frugal Toque â€” Part Deux. Previously, on Canadian Retirement Investing with Mr. Frugal Toque (see Part 1), we discussed the two major investment vehicles that are available for private individuals who do not have company or government pensions available to them. Those were the RRSP and the TFSA.

In the most recent podcast, I talked about how useful it can be to just talk a stock idea through whether that is with someone a lot smarter than you, a peer of about equal investing skill, or anyone else for that matter.. I talk a lot with people on Skype about stock ideas they choose. And they often tell me how helpful I was in coming up with some insight â€” some way of thinking about their ...

Financial advisors cost a lot of money. Learning to be your own advisor may save you time, money, and hassle. Those who spend more time thinking about saving money, investing well, and becoming financially independent are far more likely to actually do it than those who only think about these subjects twice a year.

The IRS limits how much more money you can put in. Per the IRS, at a certain point it's no longer a life insurance policy, but an investment called a Modified Endowment Contract (MEC), and it loses the tax benefits accorded to life insurance policies. Ideally, you fund the policy right up to the MEC line to decrease the amount of time it takes until your policy has significant cash value.
